

Darcy Eikenberg, ACC
Executive, Leadership & Workplace Coach
Speaker & Author
Founder, RedCapeRevolution.com

Darcy Eikenberg, ACC, helps high performance professionals accelerate their leadership in ways that work for their organizations and for themselves. With a practical, real-life perspective, and with over 20 years' experience working with top companies such as The Coca-Cola Company, Microsoft, Deloitte Consulting and State Farm, Darcy's clients consistently grow to greater levels of clarity, confidence and control in their work and lives—all leading to better business results.

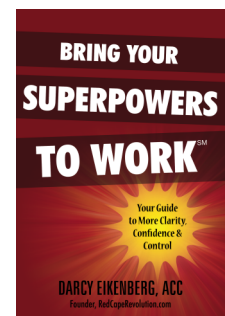

Before launching her own business, Darcy was a Principal at human resources consulting firm Hewitt Associates (now Aon Hewitt), where she served on both the Southeast and the North American Consulting Leadership teams. In those roles, she was accountable for developing and retaining talent, building managers and teams, and growing a healthy bottom-line. She also designed and led a national managers' forum to share best practices and extend front-line learning, and created an internal coaching program specifically targeted to high potential associates and high revenue teams managing complex customer relationships.

RED CAPE REVOLUTION
bring your superpowers to work

In addition to her coaching work with executives and leaders, Darcy founded career and success site RedCapeRevolution.com in 2011 as a way to help everyday professionals at all levels discover their “superpowers” and make a bigger difference in the new world of work.

Her book, Bring Your Superpowers to Work: Your Guide to More Clarity, Confidence and Control, was published in 2012 and is available on Amazon and BN.com. You can download a free chapter at RedCapeRevolution.com.

Darcy is a popular speaker on career and workplace issues, working with organizations such as the International Association of Business Communicators, Kettering Executive Network, the Public Relations Society of America, and the Risk Management Association. She's been quoted in the Harvard Business Review, CNN.com, Atlanta Journal-Constitution, Modesto Bee, and CareerBuilder.com among others. Darcy is the past president of the Georgia Coach Association and earned her credentials through the International Coach Federation. She graduated from Northwestern University and lives in Atlanta, Georgia, USA.

Darcy@RedCapeRevolution.com | 404.857.2REV (2738) | RedCapeRevolution.com

Facebook.com/RedCapeRevolution | @RedCapeRev | LinkedIn.com/in/DarcyEikenberg