
Your Year-End Look Back, Red Cape Style

As another year comes to a close, give yourself the present of a few minutes or a few hours to answer these questions. You'll end up with an honest reflection of all that's happened for you this year, and you'll be able to start the new year off with your red cape flying!

- The thing I am the most proud that I did this year is . . .

- The thing I am most proud that I didn't do this year is . . .

- The area I gained clarity in this year was . . .

- To create that clarity, I . . .

- This year, my confidence grew in these areas . . .

- To help my confidence grow, I . . .

- This year, I took more control over . . .

- The easiest thing about the year was . . .

- The hardest thing about the year was . . .

- The best support I got during the year came from . . .

- I'm proud to have worn my red cape this year when . . .

- If I could sum 2011 up in one final word, it would be . . .

- If I could give myself one word of focus for 2012, it would be . . .
