

FROM COACH DARCY EIKENBERG & REDCAPEREVOLUTION.COM
THE CAREER DECISION LIFECYCLE SM

At Red Cape Revolution, what we've learned by coaching successful professionals all over the world is that every major career decision follows the same path--a lifecycle.

There are certain places within the lifecycle where we can run into decision traps. At those points, we stay stuck and go in circles until we use specific strategies to move us forward.

What's more, we think of the decision as the end of the process, but it's not. To ensure that the career decision feels successful to us, we have to continue to tend it through steps 5, 6, and 7. This work is based in part on the teaching of William Bridges and his book, Managing Transitions.

Our course:

"Should You Stay or Go? Six Weeks to Your Best Career Decision" opens a few times throughout the year. To get on the advance list, click here.

ABOUT ME

I'm Darcy Eikenberg, the founder of RedCapeRevolution.com RedCapeRevolution.com.

I'm honored you've downloaded my quick guide to help you get unstuck and move forward in your career now!

If we haven't already met in person or online, here's a bit about who I am and why I do what I do.

WHEN PEOPLE ASK ME WHAT I DO FOR A LIVING, I SOMETIMES SAY:

“ I own a fast-growing leadership development and executive coaching firm called Red Cape Revolution, where we help business leaders and other experienced professionals manage through change at work and in their careers. ”

True.

BUT WHAT I REALLY WANT TO SAY IS:

“ I grab talented people by the shoulders, then firmly but lovingly shake up their ideas about work and success. I then turn them back toward the world, place a firm hand on their back, and push them toward action that'll change their life, their organization, and maybe their world. ”

But that might be weird.

I founded career and success site Red Cape Revolution as a way to help everyday professionals like you discover their superpowers and make a bigger difference in their own corners of the world.

With more than 20 years working with Fortune 500 companies under my belt, I now coach and speak to leaders, their teams, and other high performing professionals worldwide--people who are ready for and are often craving a change in their life at work (sometimes secretly, but sometimes so loud it hurts.)
