

INTERNATIONAL COACH FEDERATION CERTIFIED AT PCC LEVEL

- The Professional Certified Coach (PCC) designation is awarded by the International Coach Federation (ICF), the leading nonprofit enforcing ethical and quality standards in the coaching profession around the world. The PCC represents 125+ hours of coach-specific accredited training and 750+ hours of documented coaching (90% of which must be paid for by the client.) It also requires testing and work with a mentor coach, plus continuing education every three years. I've held this designation since 2015.
- As of July 2026, I've completed 3300+ qualified coaching hours and am working to earn my Master Coaching Certification (MCC) in 2027.

KEY COACHING EXPERTISE

- Executive presence and leadership communication skills, including influencing and advocating with boards, teams, and external peers
- Coaching for leaders of leaders and managers ("coach the coach") focused on retaining and engaging top talent, reducing burnout and overwhelm
- Effective decision-making amid uncertainty and constant change
- Brain-based behavior change & mindset growth
- Consultative skills for problem-solving and sales growth
- Active listening and powerful questioning
- Group facilitation & team management
- Action planning and creating personal accountability

COACHING RESULTS: WHAT PEOPLE SAY

"I decided to invest in myself by asking for Darcy's assistance, but I didn't expect to feel so invigorated and empowered from the experience. She helped me to move beyond my self prescribed limitations so that I could move forward with the next phase of my career with clarity and confidence." --Jack, Atlanta, GA

"I'm struck by Darcy's unparalleled gift of zooming in on what's most germane to guide you through exploring the best way to reach your professional goals." --Monica, Seattle, WA
